Interval House of Ottawa

Maison Interval d'Ottawa

Founded in 1976 as Ottawa's first shelter for women fleeing abuse, Interval House of Ottawa (IHO) has provided safety, support, and hope to survivors of gender-based violence for 50 years. Today, IHO operates a 30-bed emergency shelter, outreach services, prevention programming, and second-stage housing. Since opening its doors, nearly 4,000 survivors and more than 4,800 children have found safety through IHO. While we proudly celebrate this milestone, the need for our services remains as urgent as ever.

But Why?

As Interval House of Ottawa celebrates 50 years of supporting and believing survivors, we also celebrate the opening of our new 10-unit second-stage housing program, a milestone made possible through the generosity of our community and funding partners.

In the midst of Ottawa's housing crisis, safe and affordable housing remains one of the greatest barriers facing survivors of gender-based violence. Too many women and gender-diverse survivors are forced to remain in abusive situations, or stay in emergency shelter longer than necessary, because they have nowhere else to go.

Second-stage housing bridges that gap, providing safe, affordable housing and continued supports as survivors rebuild their lives.

Funds raised through the Cool Cat Cabaret will help sustain this vital program, ensuring more families have the opportunity to heal, rebuild, and thrive.
